ROBBERS WORK ON CHRISTMAS EVE

Christmas eve, with its exciting times on the public streets, was chosen as a fitting time for a series of robberies throughout the city.

Miss Johnson's curio store received a visit between 11 o'clock and daylight, when about $150 worth of jewelry was taken. The back door was the mode of entering and departing by the thief.

A hold-up was successfully carried through in the Twielf district the same evening, the visitor to that locality being relieved of a gold watch and chain and cuff buttons, all valued in the neighborhood of $240.

Chief McDuffie has recovered all of the property except the visitor's hat, which was also taken from him.

A. H. Jungelaus, of the Palm Cafe, was also a loser by the fact that his room was stealthily entered sometime near morning and all his clothing and valuables therein taken. The clothing was later found in an alley but minus any valuables.

McDuffie was also successful in this instance, recovering most of the property stolen, which was valued in the neighborhood of $300.

SOLDIER REWARDS RESCUER WITH PUNCH

A crack on the jaw for a Christmas present does not seem to be the right kind of a remembrance, especially as a reward for doing a slight favor in the way of pulling a man out of the river where if left to himself he would have drowned.

A soldier who had taken all the liquor he could hold, lay down on the river bank to sleep it off, but hardly had he got in a good position when over he went into the water, cutting his face with a deep gash on the stone embankment. A German named Khraus, who saw the soldier fall, jumped into the water without hesitation and saved the soldier's life. Others came to the rescue with ropes and in a short time the soldier was hauled to the top of the wall.

The rope men next turned their attention to the rescuer and as they were pulling him over the wall the soldier, whose ducking had somewhat revived him, hauled off and landed a severe smash on the face of the man who had saved his life.

The soldier was so badly wounded in his fall over the embankment that he had to be taken to the hospital for repairs.

THETIS OFFICERS ARE THE HOSTS

U. S. Revenue Cutter Preparing For Cruise to Desert Isles

The well known United States revenue cutter Thetis is now in Hawaiian waters. The vessel arrived from the coast on Christmas day and is under the command of Captain W. V. E. Jacobs. This morning Captain Jacobs and Acting Governor Mott-Smith exchanged felicitations amid the firing of salutes.

The Thetis comes to Hawaii to make a tour of the outlying bird islands and attempt to round up the poachers, if any are now conducting their unlawful business of killing birds for the purpose of removing their skins. The Thetis possesses an historic career in the U. S. revenue service. For some years she has been actively identified with the policing of the American seal preserves in northern waters. The Thetis has been in the thickest of the fray. The vessel has visited the Hawaiian Islands on several previous occasions. She is a wooden vessel staunchly built and her bow is plated with heavy steel to withstand as well as to force her way through an ice pack.

The Thetis is to be, reprovisioned, and a supply of fuel taken on board preparatory for an early departure for the small islets which lie to the north and westward of the Hawaiian group. The cutter is provided with a very satisfactory wireless outfit, which assists to keep the vessel in communication with the land stations.

PURSER PHILLIPS of the steamer Mauna Kea reports the bark Saint Katherine as arriving at Hilo on Sunday with general cargo, the steamer Enterprise as having sailed for San Francisco on Friday with general cargo and a few passengers, the schooner Kona sailing on last Wednesday for Port Townsend in ballast, and the schooner Ewa at Mahukona discharging a general consignment of supplies and merchandise.

THE STEAMER Likiep, arriving from Papeete, brought no freight or passengers. Her officers reported a rough trip with choppy seas outward bound, with fine weather and smooth seas returning. Along the Hamakua coast the weather was exceedingly rough from Saturday to Thursday afternoon, and it was impossible to work at some of the ports.

HORSE RACES ON NEW YEAR'S DAY AT KAPAA TRACK
LIHUE, Dec. 25.—The good old days of racing are to be revived again at Waipouli, next Saturday, and the indications are that it will be a meet attended by the best horses on the island and a great crowd of enthusiasts.

The sport will begin at ten o'clock in the forenoon, and will continue all day, with an intermission at noon for lunch, which will be eaten on the grounds.

A good program has been arranged by the committee in charge of the arrangements, and among the horses entered will be three from Col. Spalding's stables at Keala, two belonging to Manager Webber of Lihue plantation, four entered by H. Kuhlman of Koloa, and several more by residents of Kapala, one by Tatsima of Koloa, one by M. B. Fernandez of Wahiawa, Hanapepe, and other places.

ISAAC TESTA PASSES AWAY

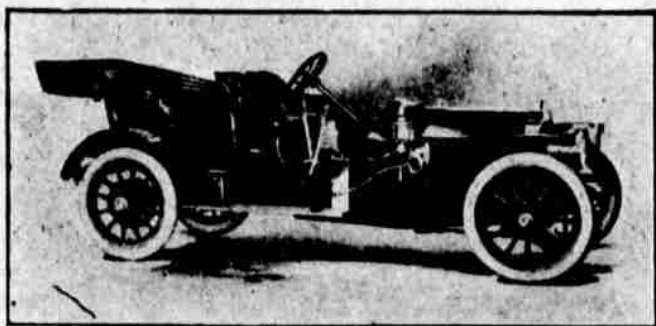

Early on Christmas Day Isaac Testa, nephew of F. J. Testa of the city, and one of the well-known wallians, died at his home on Kalaniana'ole highway of kidney trouble. He was years of age, having been born November 28, 1866, in this city.

The deceased was educated in the Royal School, after which he became a printer, working on the Advertiser for many years. While in that capacity he organized a savings association among his co-workers, this way thousands of dollars were accumulated, rendering timely aid in time of need.

Lately Mr. Testa was employed in the printing department of the Hawaiian Star.

Yesterday afternoon special funeral services over the remains of the deceased were conducted by Rev. R. Horace Chamberlain of

LOCOMOBILE

The Best Built Car in America

There has never been any question as to the great reliability of the Locomobile. If it excels in one attribute more than another it is the ability to run—day after day, month after month, year after year—with a minimum of care and expense. Ready for demonstration at
